NEW US, NEW WEBSITE

Our new website has been launched, take a look

If you've been keeping up to date with us here at NWD Accountancy Ltd, you will know that we have been through a lot of changes in the past twelve months. From moving to our new premises to expanding the team, we have been busy updating and upgrading, so what better way to celebrate than launching our new website?

So it is with great pleasure that we can announce that our website is live and ready at www.nwdaccountancy.com and we couldn't be happier with it. The whole team would like to say a huge thank you to Chetaru UK and their Indian counterpart for all the hard work and dedication that has gone into the site to make it as brilliant as it is. We are currently looking to expand our client testimonial section of the website, so if you have a positive experience of working alongside NWD Accountancy and find that you have a spare moment, please feel free to write down a few of the highlights of our service and email it to: lauren@nwdaccountancy.com.

The company works closely with some of the most recognised and well connected casting directors in the industry and pride themselves on their highly personalised and dedicated approach to those they teach. DJW runs a variety of classes for a number of age ranges, tailoring the experience to each individual and preparing and advising them for a career within film and theatre. The school prides itself on it's wide variety of guest speakers and teachers and has achieved QA International recognition at GOLD level 2015-2017 and are expecting to once again achieve this status in 2018.

Beginning 1st and 8th of September, DJW will be offering classes in the heart of the city, opening it's doors to a whole new alumni in the Tyneside area. Open day will be between 10am-2pm on the 1st and 8th at Newcastle college. NWD Accountancy would like to extend our congratulations to DJW Talent on their new venture, we have seen the company go from strength to strength since it's conception and are proud to call them one of our clients. We wish Daniel, Emma and the rest of the team the best of luck and look forward to helping the company in any way that we can!

GDPR, it's finally over!

After months of warning emails, prepping the office and all of our data handling procedures, GDPR has finally been implemented and here at NWD Accountancy we are up to date with current legislation. If you are still struggling to come to terms with the ins and outs of GDPR, feel free to drop our data protection officer a message at lauren@nwdaccountancy.com and we will get back to you as soon as we can.

But now there's making tax digital...

As we mentioned in the previous newsletter, HMRC is taking the necessary steps to modernise the way that we file our taxes. By bringing taxes into the digital age, we make the process of recording and submitting our finances to HMRC easier, meaning that decisions and rectifications can be done quickly for the benefit of all.

Although legislation is not implemented until April 2019, by which all quarterly reports will have to be filed online, there is currently a pilot programme, we suggest that all of our clients take the time to prepare themselves for the changes that will soon affect all businesses in the UK.

HMRC has already released a list of approved software programs to make your tax digital. Some providers include Forbes, Absolute, IRIS and Rhino. If you have any further questions on software or the process as a whole, do not hesitate to get in touch with NWD and we will do our best to help you get ready for this important step towards modernising and recording your company's finances.
